

CHAI OVERVIEW

DECEMBER 2019

ABOUT US

The Clinton Health Access Initiative, Inc. (CHAI) is committed to saving lives, reducing the burden of disease, and strengthening health systems in low- and middle-income countries. We work with governments and local private partners to create and sustain high-quality health programs and systems that can ultimately succeed without our assistance.

We use a business-minded approach to shape healthcare markets to reduce the costs of lifesaving medications, diagnostics, vaccines, and other health products in low- and middle-income countries.

CHAI's programs have helped millions of adults and children access lifesaving medicines, vaccines, and care to treat diseases that would otherwise be fatal or debilitating.

OUR STRUCTURE

CHAI has almost 2,000 staff, and a 2020 budget of over $220 million. We are funded primarily by philanthropic foundations, multilateral organizations, and high-income country governments that share our mission. In recent years, CHAI has grown about 20 percent per year.

OUR PROGRAMS

We operate 12 programs across four health areas, with a global team of science, business, and technical experts supporting the entire organization.

INFECTIOUS DISEASES

Four infectious diseases cause most deaths in low- and middle- income countries: HIV/AIDS, tuberculosis, hepatitis, and malaria. We have built on expertise developed with our HIV work to address each of these diseases, in partnership with governments, donors, and other key stakeholders.

WOMEN, NEWBORN & CHILD HEALTH

We have increased access to recommended treatments for diarrhea and pneumonia, the largest killers of children under five; made critical vaccines that protect against childhood illnesses more affordable and available; are combatting chronic malnutrition; are dramatically and sustainably reducing maternal and newborn deaths and ensuring women have access to the tools they need to safely plan their families to improve health and economic outcomes.

UNIVERSAL HEALTH COVERAGE

Our founding mission and goal is to help countries provide universal health coverage of high-quality health services for all people. To achieve this, we work with governments to strengthen national health financing systems, including establishing national health insurance plans that can be sustained for years to come. We also help develop systems to educate healthcare professionals and build infrastructure to deliver health services.

NON-COMMUNICABLE DISEASES

CHAI has recently begun assisting governments to build programs to combat cancer and has succeeded in reducing the prices of many chemotherapy drugs by over 50 percent. CHAI is also working to scale-up testing and treatment to dramatically reduce deaths due to cervical cancer. We have recently initiated a program to bring the latest immunotherapy treatments to low- and middle- income countries.
